Overview

The Arkansas State Library serves as the Regional Federal Depository, State Documents Depository, and United States Patent & Trademark Resource Center for Arkansas, and provides additional library resources and research services to support the work and information needs of state government. ASL provides free consultation, professional development, programming support, and leadership in collaborative initiatives to libraries across Arkansas, including the administration of the Traveler Statewide Database program whereby all schools, libraries and public citizens gain free remote access to a large collection of online resources. Finally, the State Library operates the Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, thus providing Braille, audio books, and other non-traditional library resources to 4,000+ citizens each year who would otherwise have limited or no access to traditional library services.
